
Vango Idaho 500

Hi,

Just bought and camped in (for the first time since being a kid) a Vango Idaho 500. Just my partner and I, both with 0 experience of pitching a tent found it really easy to put up and pack back away.

The tent is probably a bit OTT for just two people but it offers a large sleeping area - would sleep 4 in comfort and has a divider to separate out bedroom space and even bigger porch to sit out the rain and store gear.

Not one for taking hiking due to size and weight but great for touring and weekends away. Roll on next summer when we take it to France!

Hi Kie, thanks for the review - really useful. I like the sound of a separate sleeping area in a tent sounds really useful - probably good for a dog as well. Thanks for taking part.
