

If you like CAMPING like we love TENTS, this is the CAMPSITE for you!

The highlight of camping for us is waking up on a beautiful morning in the wilderness and popping our head out of the tent flaps of our two man tent to see what weather is facing us that morning. What's your highlight? - discuss tents and discuss camping at iLoveTents.co.uk Read the campsites reviews & tent reviews on our forum. Tell us about your experiences

We also love sitting by the tent and looking up at the stars with a cup of tea cooked on our little camping gaz stove - there's something special about drinking a hot drink in the middle of nowhere isn't there?

If you love camping, why not tell us what you love in our camping forum?

Do you have a favourite campsite? What's your tent like? - tell other campers on the forum. Read our campsite reviews before you book and go to get an independent view of the site before you get there

Do you go to campsites, or do you take your tent on your back out into the great outdoors?

The weather this year has persuaded many of us to stay away from the UK countryside and go further afield - we've just come back from the Alps. Where have you been camping with your tent this year?
